Much Zip At Glades RDB Meet

BELLE GLADE — An enthusiastic group of 65 from all corners of the city and eastern shores of Lake Okeechobee met here Wednesday night to solidify plans for the newly formed Glades Committee of the County Resources and Development Board.

President Claude Shirley of Pahokee called the meeting, which was presided over by Rep. Emmett Roberts of Belle Glade. Goals of the sub-RDB were described by Commissioner E. L. Gentry, Mrs. Close, Lt. Gen. Jones, John L. Evans and F. S. "Dick" Parrish.

Added to the Glades Committee board of directors were: Southern area — Sam Henderson, Clayton Waters, Henry Elton, Frank W. and C. L. Wever; Central — Harold Zumpf, Eugene Ellis, Herbert Tillary, Earl Lindrose and C. L. Todd; northern — William Plumer, Dr. Robert Lane, Curtis Chase, Boyd Vorhees and Louis Gold.

REC. PROGRAM STARTS MON.

PAHOKEE — The summer recreational program for Pahokee young people will begin Monday, when more than 125 youngsters are expected to register for activities.

The program will be two-fold, with one half under Bill Howard, conducting a recreational program at City Park, and Bandmaster Robert O. Lampi having a band clinic at the high school band building.

Registration of band students will be held at the school at 8 a.m. Monday, and at city park at 9 o'clock.

Monday-through-Friday sessions at city park will be from 8 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. Regular band members and Thursday from 10 a.m. to noon. Individual or small group instruction will be given daily from 8 to 10 a.m. and from 1 to 5 p.m.

Beginners' band classes will be held on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, from 10 a.m. to noon. Regular band members and Thursday from 10 a.m. to noon. Individual or small group instruction will be given daily from 8 to 10 a.m. and from 1 to 5 p.m.

Mr. Lampi reports that there are a few base horns, French horns, bassoons and one baritone horn, and the cornet available for use that belong to the school band.

The six week programs are free of charge except for a 10-cent daily fee for swimming pool privileges. They are sponsored by the county board of public instruction and the state department of education.

WORK ON CIVIC BLDG. TO HALT?

PAHOKEE — A miracle in civic improvement will be realized here by July 15 — if a little more money can be raised.

The miracle is the new civic building nearing completion at the downtown intersection of Main St. and Lake Ave. It will house Chamber of Commerce office and the city library and be used by civic groups.

Merely a dream at the dawn of '56, the original plan of raising funds here on Jan. 22, and piling wasn't driven until March.

Civic clubs and individuals have raised about $8,000 to meet pay-as-you-go costs. Materials have been donated or delivered at cut-rate prices. Many persons have donated their labor free of charge, according to Don Hillier, contractor.

It is the civic committee's wish the roof is on, stuccoing is finished on the outside, and plastering on the inside. By July 1 it is expected windows will be in and doors hung.

But the civic committee needs about $2,000 to complete the building, odds and ends from purchasing electrical fixtures to painting interior and exterior, tiling windows, polishing floors, and variety of miscellaneous.

ELLISON, GAS TRUCKS ARE TOPICS AT BG COMMISSION

BELLE GLADE — City commissioners conceded Wednesday night an error may have been committed in granting a permit to John Ellison to construct a frame house on NW Ave. E.

But, sitting in their regular session, they decided to rescind the permit of "a mistake" at a previous commission meeting halting construction of the building.

On motion by Commissioner Marvin Unwin, the commission voted to table the matter until

Medfly Spray Stirs Complaints

CALIFORNIA — First plane spraying to combat the Mediterranean Fruit Fly in this area was completed here Tuesday with plenty of complaints from citizens unaware of spraying plans.

The spraying — conducted by Holland Dusting Service of Homestead under state plant board - USDA authorization — resulted in temporarily splattered autos and clothing.

Miami officials said the area would be sprayed again next Friday with a final spraying about 10 days later. They advised car owners to hose down their autos both before and after the spraying, and water-laundry washing before the laundry clothing before which might be affected.

In other action, the commission:

Granted $100 from general fund to the Pahokee Fire Department, at request of Dr. R. J. Allen, Jr. Commission said that in the future similar groups would have to petition monies from the city at budget time so proper allocations could be planned.

Final report from City Manager C. E. Robinson that pumps have been ordered for the new test wells, which thus far have responded "very well," to tests.

Okayed request for temporary permit to Andrew Mollo to paint signs on Lake Ave. C and SW 5th St. until a new building is built at his present business address.

Tabled until next meeting request for extension of contract property belonging to Lilly Nunn, Robert Cooper and Fletcher Barnes, in the Negro Hall, American Legion Hall.

Installing officer will be Merrill C. Meade of Lake Worth, commander of the Legion's ninth district.

After all local officers are installed, a dance will be held.

At last Monday's regular meeting, officers were elected to head the local Legion post's corporation for the coming fiscal year. They are Web Pellegrino, president; Leland Keene, secretary; and Tom W. Davis, treasurer.

The ceremonies and dance are open to the public and there will be no admission charge.

Code Is Answer For Water Problems

BELLE GLADE — About 75 persons attended the meeting of the subcommittee on water resources held last week at West Palm Beach, according to George Wedgworth, co-chairman.

Accepted plans and profile of a 20-acre subdivision on SE Ave. G owned by Claude Jones.

Accepted on final reading orders covering city's installing new water mains, and regulating operation of private automobiles within the city.

It might be fine to stick close to your job, but driving an auto too close to the fellow in front is murder, friend, the undeclared and unintended kind.

Ramblin' Wreck 'On The Loose' For Observer

Glades residents are warned to look out for a local boy, the next night for a true "Ramblin' Wreck From Georgia Tech" who will be selling subscriptions "to work his way through college."

And it'll be gag, either, for George Ernest Rose, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rose of Pahokee, a senior at Georgia Tech, is home on vacation. He'll sell OBSERVER subscriptions, with direction from his mother. OBSERVER offices are closed.

Wear handmades George to call on you. Just call OBSERVER at Pahokee 571.

FLY TO SIDE OF LT. HOOKS

CALIFORNIA — Combined efforts of friends speeded a night flight of light aircraft to the aid of a pilot who had crashed in a plane crash Tuesday morning near Valdosta, Ga.

Stanley Ray Hause, the former Red Army flier, and his father Delmar were notified of the accident late Tuesday. Within an hour friends had pulled strings to obtain reservations at a Miami airport, and Rita Faye and Mr. Hause were en route by car to the scene, driven by J. A. Bass of Belle Glade.

Lt. Hooks was severely burned in the mishap and flown to Brooks Hospital in San Antonio, Tex., within hours after he received help. According to word received here, Lt. Hooks was conscious and recognized his wife when she was permitted to see him.

Special prayers for Lt. Hooks were said by church services this week by his friends in Canal Point and Pahokee.

Routine bills were paid and an ordinance imposing a new utility tax was passed on final reading. The meeting began at 8 p.m. and was concluded and members enjoying a coffee session by 9 o'clock. The coffee was sweet, too, Crow said.

The public is urged to attend the program.

Tax Exemption Proposal Could Renew Downtown

PAHOKEE — A dramatic proposal to extend tax exemptions on buildings and encourage the renovation and modernization of Pahokee's downtown business district was made by Mayor F. S. "Dick" Parrish at the regular session of the city council.

The mayor's proposal was an oral one which still must be worked on in detail before formal presentation to the council. Briefly, it would give a five-year tax break to any new commercial or industrial built in an area zoned accordingly, and would be retroactive to cover new buildings erected since 1953.

In making the proposal, Parrish said, over the planning of the city's immediate future as well as looking ahead to what the business community could be in 10 or 15 years.

Objectives of the three-fold plan would stop the pressurized hassle surrounding the council's expressed desire to grant a tax exemption to a $100,000 shopping center proposed by Joseph Kahn, to encourage construction of new business buildings, and to make it desirable for present owners of unsightly buildings to renovate them.

Councilor T. George Tucker, Jr., asked the council to consider the mayor's suggestion and be prepared to take a stand on the matter at future meetings.

Council took drastic action to enforce city regulations on occupational licenses, giving about 45 businesses 24 hours to pay their delinquent licenses or face arrest for illegally operating their enterprises.

The delinquent occupational license varied in amount ranging from $5 to $150. Of the city's budget estimate of $12,500 income from this source during the current fiscal year, only $3,940 had been had been received during the first six months.

Accepted for collection of more than $900 in sidewalk assessments delinquent since July 1, 1955 from owners of 12 parcels of property in sidewalk "Project 1." Owners of the parcels ranged from $50 to $200.

Accepted for further consideration was a formal bid from the Junior Chamber of Commerce to lease and operate Pahokee Harbor for a period of five years.

According to the bid, signed by Charles M. Brown as Jaycee president, the organization (Continued On Page 8)

Rep. Paul Rogers last month introduced a bill embracing recommendations of the Hoover Commission which told Congress "could effect savings in the amount of almost $4 billion." He admitted the figure "is perhaps hard to substantiate."

We commend Rep. Rogers' efforts to save taxpayers' money, but those words "almost" and "substantiate" intrigue us.

Julius Moon of the Bank of Pahokee tells us of a stack of 50 new $1 bills weighs 1 5/8 ounces, measures 3 3/8" in height. A bit of amateur arithmetic carries this out to show that $4 billion (in $1's) weighs about 8,113,600 lbs. or 4,057 tons.

If you were to take off for the moon in a space ship alongside a stack of $4 billion dollar bills, you'd travel 473 miles before you'd reach its peak.

We hope Rep. Rogers isn't fretting about "substantiating" his figure. What's a ton or two—or a mile or so—when it comes to the loose green stuff?

WASHINGTON
NEWSLETTER

By Sen. George Smathers

Thanks to the many business men and organizations in Florida for their support and correspondence in connection with our efforts on behalf of small business throughout the nation.

The Customs Department under this administration has some strong ideas about economy. Soon after the administration took office, they dropped their efficient system of inspecting baggage at ports of entry. This never stood a chance, is certainly not an effective plan, as far as checking each baggage item. Now they want to eliminate written statements and substitute oral declarations that nothing of dutiful value is being brought into the country. A let-down of our Customs' guard is invitation to catastrophes such as the outbreak of the Mediterranean fever and the illicit traffic of narcotics.

The Senate finally passed the multi-million dollar interstate highway bill. This is the gigantic road program which all of us have been so much interested in for so long a time.

Florida stands to receive $499.5 million under the bill as passed by the Senate. For the interstate part of the program, the funds will be distributed on a 9:10 basis with 90% of the Federal Government pays 90% and the state 10%. Primary, secondary and urban authorizations in this bill are predicated upon a realistic matching fund basis of 50:50.

This bill now goes to conference where it will undoubtedly be very bitterly fought out—particularly with respect to the provisions on an apportionment of funds between the 48 states. Under the House version or the so-called Fallon Bill, Florida would have been treated more generously than it would be under the Senate provisions.

HOLLAND AT WORK. Florida will receive more public works money this year than ever before in history. Something like $16,177,000 was cleared for passage by the Senate this week. Each member of Congress from Florida worked hard for the projects in his district, but most of them will agree that Holland's position on the Senate Public Works Committee was the key to such a large appropriation. For example, when the Tampa Harbor appropriation reached the Senate—Holland looked it over, felt it was unrealistic and weak and suggested increasing it by a half dollars. Now standing at four million dollars, it should be adequate for the continuation of this important work—a project on which Holland has worked for so long.

NOTE ON FLORIDA.—The Department of Commerce says that Florida had the greatest rate of increase in automobile registrations in 1955 of all the states in the country. The rate of increase was 14.6% compared to the national average of 7.3%. That should prove beyond a doubt that Florida is the fastest growing state.

and the Senate that the House conferees will stand firm and insist upon their provisions of apportionment of funds. If this is done, then, of course, we in our state stand to gain considerably more.

HOW TO SAVE FOUR BILLION BUCKS: That's a lot of money, but freshman Congressman Paul Rogers thinks his bill will do it. In a speech before the House he explained that his bill would implement some of the suggestions made in the Second Hoover Report. His ideas are being backed up by some 38 senators who already have sponsored a similar bill on the Senate floor.

Rogers says that our present government accounting system is "outdated and ridiculous." He said, "Under the present set-up, the Congress loses control of the money after it is appropriated." Rogers claims the government could save billions if the bill is passed.

True to their word, the bosses turned their heads the other way while before me was arrayed the best meal a hard-working dog columnist ever had. Two whole chickens were whipped up a batch of asta-puchi—kahi-pooza, Chickasaw steamed steak—and after only a few short moments when my ears stood straight up at the number of spines I found on the steak, I was able to knock away easily at my heaping plate.

A Drink For Health

Sen. Alexander Wiley (R., Wis.), left, and Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R., N.Y.), right, help a young girl drink a milkshake at a mammath clinic in the U.S. Capitol. The Senate of Congress gave the party for more than 30 children in the Senate dining room to call attention to the need for increasing milk consumption.

A group of Washington (D.C.) children joined Senator Alexander Wiley (R., Wis.) and Representative W. Sterling Cole (R., N.Y.) at a milk shake mix party in the U.S. Capitol this month in an effort to induce more American youngsters to drink milk.

More than 30 children, ranging in age from a toddler to 12, were invited to the party. They came back for seconds and thirds of the milk shakes served by the two Members of Congress in the main Senate dining room.

Senator Wiley and Representative Cole, who were joined by the country's top nutritionists, said they felt that the new powdered milk shake mix proved that it will be particularly effective in getting children to enjoy their dairy milk.

Although the party was for young youngsters, they knew that there was a serious purpose to it. The Congressmen explained that one purpose was to call attention of the country to the alarmingly high percentage of children and teen agers who fail to drink enough milk to meet their health needs.

The Members of Congress pointed out that a shocking number of our children suffer from malnutrition because they fail to drink enough milk. On the other hand, they said, this country faces a financial crisis which makes it difficult for the government to meet its acts to support prices, they added, has cost the taxpayers hundreds of millions of dollars.

They commented on the dairy industry for the promotional campaign undertaken to boost milk consumption, explaining that new products which offer promise of increasing milk consumption are appearing on the market every day.

One such product is the powdered milk shake mix which Senator Wiley and Representative Cole served the children in the Senate.

Russell Tucker, Mrs. Kathleen Livingston, and Mr. and Mrs. John Munroe. The party brought to a close the band's activities for the year.

Mr. Roy Litchfield's eighth grade home economics class played host to their parents shortly before the close of their annual tea in the home economics department at Belle Glade high school. Members of the faculty were also invited guests. The purpose of the affair was to give parents a first hand glimpse into what is done during the course.

Having a red-hot crime wave in town, Specs McGuire and Buck Hanson were caught taking money out of parking meters again. I was at Police Headquarters when a nice old lady rushed in to report them.

From where I sit, we ought to guard against accusing anyone of being "wrong" just because that's the way it looks to us. For instance, I've heard people talk about how bad coffee is. I don't approve of his choice of beverage! (They liked tea, or something, while he preferred a glass of beer.) Be sure you have a case before you lay down the law.

WeddingsFRIERSON - GANT

Miss June Gant of Pahokee, sister of the groom, will be bridesmaid and Miss Linda Frierson, the bride's sister, junior bridesmaid.

The groom chose his brother-in-law, Lloyd Clifton, as best man. Ushers will be Billie Ray Mosley, Pahokee, and Roy Frierson, brother of the bride.

The wedding ceremony will be held in the Canal Point Baptist Church on Saturday, June 23, at 2 p.m. A reception will be held at the same church immediately after the ceremony. All friends and relatives of the couple are invited to attend.

REGISTER - MIZZEL

Miss Joy Register, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Skuce of West Palm Beach, became the bride of Ensign William F. Mizzel, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mizzel of Clewiston, in a double ring ceremony at the Everglades Presbyterian Church in Belle Glade Sunday afternoon. Dr. J. Leighton Scott, pastor, officiated.

The church was decorated with pinecones, baskets of white gladioli and mums, and two seven-branch candelabra holding white candles. Miss Marianne Womack was organist and played traditional hymns. The music was done by soloist, sang "Because" and "O, Promise Me."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white net over white satin, fashioned in a cathedral train, having a long torso, fitted bodice of Chantilly lace over satin. The bodice featured a scoop neck line with lace trim, and was brodered with seed pearls and sequins, and long sleeves ending in a point over the wrist. The skirt was also applied with lace and embroidered with pearls and sequins. The finger tip veil of illusion fell from a lace tiara brodered with the same pearls and sequins. One-Step Seafood Dinner

by Ann Pillsbury

Refrigerated buttermilk biscuits provide a speedy ready-made topping; your only job is preparing the crabmeat and cheese sauce.

Are meatless meals a problem at your house? If so, you needn't get into a menu rut for there are many exciting ways to serve seafood.

Here's just one example which we developed in our test kitchen. It's simple, delicious, and can be prepared in a jiffy, made piping hot with bits of green pepper and pimiento.

On top goes a package of our refrigerated buttermilk biscuits sprinkled with shredded American cheese. With the biscuits ready to pop right into the oven, you'll have time to toss a salad to complete the menu. Try it once—and it'll become a certain call favorite for parties and family meals alike. (Keep several cans of refrigerated biscuits on hand, too, for quick hot breads, coffee cakes, snacks, and desserts.)

REV. HOUGLIN 'PASTOR OF YEAR'

PAHOKEE — Residents here bid a fond farewell this week to Rev. Mr. Houghlin, who did a "hang-up" job in a year's time as pastor of First Methodist Church.

The pastor is Rev. Aaron D. Houghlin, who was named "Rural Minister of the Year" in the West Florida District at the recent state Methodist conference in Lakeland.

Rev. Houghlin's honors were concomitant with his Pahokee church's winning its award as "The Best Church of the Year." He said the award was based on the church's outstanding support of the entire Methodist organizational program.

Among accomplishments of the church during Rev. Mr. Houghlin's year, the board gave to parishes, especially J. V. Thomas, charge lay leader; Ralph Johnson, chairman of the finance committee, and A. J. "Jack" Spencer, chairman of the official board.

Outgoing, Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Houghlin moved to Dania where the pastor was re-assigned when health conditions forced him to resign his Pahokee charge. Their address in Dania is 117 S. Federal Hwy.

First Methodist Church's new pastor is Rev. Wayne Owns, who joined the church last week with his wife and 13-year-old son, from Naples. He formerly served in Naples, Ft. Meade, Titusville and Mulberry.

Mrs. Grimes is a member of the Pahokee First Baptist Church, and for many years attended the services regularly, but due to poor health of recent months, she has had to remain at home, and care for her daughter, Mrs. Stevens, and her granddaughter, Mrs. Stevens, and maintained her own home.

Mrs. Grimes, a native of Alabama, resides in Pahokee since she was a small girl until coming to Pahokee. She is the mother of four children: Mrs. Stevens and Mrs. J. L. Butler of Jacksonville, Mrs. Ralph Grimes of Pahokee, and W. W. Grimes of Tampa. She has 17 grandchildren and 2 great-grandchildren.

Get Split-T Tips For Blue Devils

PAHOKEE — The Blue Devils of Pahokee high may come up with some defense maneuver to come the football season, says Coach Web Pelli, who attended a coaching clinic at Tallahassee over the weekend with Assistant Coach Billie Dunn.

He got some "handy" instructions on how to make the "split - T" formation click, from the nation's outstanding coaches — Bud Wilkinson of Notre Dame, Terry Brennan of Michigan State, Billie Dunn, Emphasis at the clinic was on defense. Pelli's Blue Devils have used the split-T in past seasons, winning the Suncoast Conference championship two seasons ago and finishing the running up spot last year.

Other Suncoast mentors at the clinic were "Bub" Manuel of Clewiston, "Hunk" Slay of Ft. Pierce, and Peter Barker of Lake Worth.

Pelli and Howard are directing the summer recreational program at City Park. While the conference bands football practice until fall, the coaches practice until the schools are open again, eager hands if embryonic Blue Devils happen to arrive on the scene and express the desire to throw the football around.
